

MORE COMES STANDARD.

Who doesn't want more? More tech. More performance. More standard features. Like winches, ride modes, full LED lighting, an 8" display with Apple CarPlay®—more premium features already built in. Why? Because the right machine should come with all the upgrades. The 2026 CFMOTO lineup brings it all. From the hard-working UFORCE, to the trail-shredding ZFORCE, to the go anywhere CFORCE—every machine shows up ready to ride. Every bolt. Every weld. Every part. When more comes standard, you know it's a CFMOTO.

There's the kind of work that clocks out. And then there's the kind that starts before sunrise and ends after dark. That's the job UFORCE shows up for. More torque under the hood. More room to breathe in the cab. A dump bed that handles real weight, power steering that earns its name, and comfort that doesn't fade when the hours stretch long. Built to haul. Built to climb. Built to last. Because out here, you don't buy machines for bragging rights. You buy them to pull their weight.

ZFORCE

ZFORCE is built for hills that try to buck you, ruts that wanna fight you, and weekends that leave a mark. (Those nicks and scratches are trophies.) You get the power, the clearance, the tech—and the reinforced steel tube frame to match. The suspension's dialed. The cockpit makes you feel like you're one with the machine. And it's packed with standard features, so there's nothing standing between you and everything you want. Because when the terrain turns brutal, what matters isn't the badge on the hood, it's what the machine does next.

CFORCE

CFORCE is built for riders who demand more from their machines. More power. More capability. More trust in the machine under them. With engines that don't back down, clearance that doesn't hesitate, and a ton of features that come standard—CFORCE makes choosing the smart option easy. This lineup is made for folks who know the land by feel. Who work as well alone as they do with a crew. Who don't ask if the trail goes through—they just go. CFORCE doesn't just carry its weight. It carries your expectations. Because out here, confidence isn't a luxury. It's a requirement.
